

Operated the Basketball Division of Magic Johnson Management

Prior to joining Foster Swift, Haney spent four years with Magic Johnson Management, where he negotiated global endorsement deals with companies such as American Express and McDonalds. In addition, he served as General Manager and In House Counsel to Magic Johnson's professional Swedish team. He represented both NBA and European players and negotiated Aaron McGee's contract, the largest rookie contract to date in European Basketball history. Moreover, he negotiated some of the largest single event appearances in European Basketball history with Magic Johnson and Dominique Wilkins.
